MASS-KILLER STARKWEATHER TO PAY WITH LIFE

Starkweather After Verdict

Jury Decision On 5th Vote

GUILTY IN JENSEN MURDER

By Del Harding

Mass killer Charles Starkweather was found guilty of 2 first degree murder charges Friday afternoon and the Lancaster District Court jury fixed his penalty at death in the electric chair.

The 8 women and 4 men jurors deliberated 6 hours and 25 minutes (excluding time for meals) before reaching their verdict about 2:14 p.m. The jury received the case at 5:24 p.m. Thursday and retired for the night at 10:07 p.m. without reaching a verdict.

One juror reported that 5 ballots were taken before all 12 jurors agreed that Starkweather should be electrocuted for fatally shooting Robert Jensen, 17, of Bennet, during a January murder spree which claimed 10 lives.

But the jurors reportedly agreed on the first ballot that Starkweather was guilty of first degree murder. The only question was death or life imprisonment, the juror said.

The vote reportedly was 11-1 in favor of the death penalty for the first 4 ballots before the necessary 12-0 vote was gotten on the 5th ballot.

The juror, who asked not to be identified, said the first ballot was not taken until near noon Friday after the judge's instructions, the exhibits and Starkweather's confessions had been thoroughly examined. The jury reportedly reached its verdict just before 2:14 p.m., when the bailiff was summoned to the jury room by the jury bell.

Judge Harry A. Spencer, Co. Atty. Dale Fahrbruch and defense attorneys T. Clement Gaughan and William F. Matschull were then notified that the jury had reached a verdict.

Starkweather Comes Starkweather himself was brought from the city jail (where he had been taken Friday morning after being brought to court from the State Penitentiary for the morning roll call of the jury). The 19-year-old defendant walked into court at 2:46 p.m. flanked by Sheriff Merle Karopp and Dep. Sheriff Les Hasson, who had guarded him throughout the trial.

At 2:51 p.m., the jurors, looking serious and tired, filed into the courtroom. Judge Spencer asked them if they had reached a verdict, and jury foreman Alvin M. Christiansen of 1726 So. 23rd replied yes.

Christiansen then handed the verdict slip to the bailiff, who gave it to Judge Spencer. He examined it, found it properly filled out and then handed it to District Court Clerk Wilford F. Sanders who read it to a breathless courtroom at 2:54 p.m.

Starkweather remained slumped in his chair staring at the floor while the verdict was read. Judge Spencer then polled the jury and asked each

Bennet Happy, Relieved With Jury's Decision

By Sam Hall

Bennet, Neb.—The people of this quiet farming community went about their usual chores with more ease Friday afternoon. Many attended the annual school picnic.

They were a happier people, in a calmer sort of way, for they had just received the verdict of the first degree murder conviction of Charles Starkweather.

The entire town, which had been gripped by tenseness while the jury deliberated, "will rest much easier now." Many had feared Starkweather would "get off" on an insanity verdict.

Father Fishing

Robert Jensen Sr., father of 17-year-old Robert Jensen, for whose murder Starkweather was tried, was out of town on a previously arranged fishing trip, a thing he has done frequently to get the murder off his mind.

Mrs. Jensen, still shocked from the January slaying of her son, declined comment.

Mrs. Mabel King, mother of Carol King, 16, who was also admittedly slain by Starkweather (Starkweather later blamed Carl Fugate for the King girl's death), was "afraid to listen to what the jury's verdict would be."

"But with the decision they made," she said, "I'll now feel much better." You can't bring back the kids. That's the biggest trouble. No one knows as much as me what it's like to be alone."

Mrs. King's husband died of a heart attack 3 weeks before the Starkweather murder spree. She has been eating supper regularly at the home of her sister, Mrs. Willis Fulk, who lost a son, Lyle, 21, in an automobile accident Dec. 28, 1957.

Warren King, older brother of Carol, was "definitely satisfied" with the verdict. "That's what he deserved," King said.

"Happy"

A local merchant was quoted as saying, "I never believed in capital punishment 'till this one. I am happy with the decision."

"He (Starkweather) just wanted publicity; now that's all over," stated a local businessman. "I feel sorry for his mother."

A close friend of the Jensen's said, "I think everybody is pretty happy." If the verdict had been anything else, there would have been a lot of unhappy people."

All were printed and passed out to the students.

Jerry, in the closing passages of the speech he had written, had these words:

"The world faces us and we are ready to face the world. We can do anything. We've got a chance for we've received our high school education in Albion and finally we're the class, the proud and thankful class, of 1958."

ALBION HIGH SCHOOL—Unspoken Words Sadden Graduation

Albion, Neb. (P) — "The world faces us and we face the world..."

These words were to have been spoken at the Albion High School graduation Friday night—but they were not.

The author of them was dead—shot down by the bullets of a schoolmate.

Gone Was The Laughter Gone was the usual laughter and the shouts of congratulations to the departing seniors.

Gone, too, were Jerry Sherwood, 18, senior honor student, and his friend, junior Diane Zaruba, 17, killed by the gunfire of Kermit Keeshan, 17, another junior, and a rival of Jerry's for the attention of Diane.

That was the reason this wasn't the usual gleeful, speech-making commencement.

Jerry was to have made one of the speeches and his father, Lynn Sherwood, past president of the school board, was to have passed out the diplomas.

All Cancelled

But Jerry's speech and all others by graduates were cancelled.

All were printed and passed out to the students.

Jerry, in the closing passages of the speech he had written, had these words:

"The world faces us and we are ready to face the world. We can do anything. We've got a chance for we've received our high school education in Albion and finally we're the class, the proud and thankful class, of 1958."

Judge Spencer set June 7 as hearing date on the motion for a new trial which Starkweather's attorneys will file. This is the first step in an appeal to the State Supreme Court (which the 1957 State Legislature made mandatory in all death-penalty cases).

Starkweather will not be sentenced until after Judge Spencer has ruled on the new trial motion (he is nearly certain to deny the request). This

Charlie's Bubble Bursts

By Bill W. Dean
Associated Press

If you can judge by a man's face, Charlie Starkweather's bubble had burst by the time he walked from the Lancaster District Court room, a condemned man, Friday.

The stubby redhead, who had admitted a part in 11 killings, a ruthless gunman, a knife-thrower, sometimes brawler, had swaggered through nearly 4 months of notoriety.

In the courtroom he chewed gum and looked disinterested, at least until someone questioned his sanity. Outside, he let a cigaret dangle from his lips, generally ignored crowds and newsmen though he once cuffed a photographer whose flash bulb went off in Charlie's face.

The moment he walked from the courtroom Friday, chained to a policeman, he looked like a meek, almost timid, and perhaps bewildered, teenager.

He looked exceedingly small. A radioman stuck a microphone in his face. Charlie smiled faintly, mumbled something that was barely audible.

Then he walked slowly into the sheriff's offices. He came out a little later with his father, Guy.

There was no defiance. He may not have felt it, but Charlie—the guy who said he knew he was going to get the chair—looked a little sheepish.

The chained figure, once described as a kill-crazy gunman who reacted like an enraged animal, walked slowly between 2 husky policemen to a waiting car. Ahead was the long ride back to the penitentiary where the death chair awaits him.

Mother Finally Breaks On Verdict; Son's Death May Be Year Away

By Nancy Benjamin

Charles Starkweather is "a year away from death" even if his appeal fails, Atty. T. Clement Gaughan predicted.

But this news did not cheer up the family members present when the 19-year-old youth was found guilty on 2 counts of first degree murder. Mrs. Helen Starkweather showed no more emotion than a widening of her eyes when Jury Foreman Alvin Christiansen read the verdict which meant death for her son.

She retained her composure until the short proceedings broke up, then burst into tears—the first she has shed publicly—and quickly went into the seclusion of Judge Harry A. Spencer's chambers where she sobbed alone for 30 minutes while Guy and Rodney Starkweather, Charles' father and brother, were mobbed by reporters asking for comment.

Mild Shock

The slight, red-haired woman was in a state of mild shock when she rejoined her husband, embraced him and murmured, "Oh Guy, I just don't know."

She continued to hold on to her husband for support as she told reporters that she "just can't think about it yet" and "I'm going to be all right now."

"I'm sorry I went all to pieces. I tried to stay together for Charlie," she apologized.

She smiled but her red-dened eyes remained dazed, unfocused at the crowd around her.

Guy Starkweather laughed at reports that his son had called the proceedings ending in a death sentence "a fair trial" and added, "Charles told me that he wasn't tried for killing Bob Jensen, he was tried for all of them murders."

Summoned The elder Starkweather, at home when the jury reached its decision, was summoned by his wife who was waiting at the Courthouse.

He arrived just as Atty. Jack Wenstrand flashed to newsmen waiting outside the courtroom, "First degree, 2 counts, death penalty."

Later after his son had

NIKE MISSILES WORK IS HALTED

Washington (P)—The Army Friday suspended modification work on Nike-Ajax missiles throughout the country. Such work was in progress at Leonardo, N. J., Thursday when an explosion took 10 lives.

The explosion destroyed 8 missiles and sent parts of them flying as far as 3 miles from the launching site.

The cause has not been determined, and the Army said that until full information is assembled and analyzed by ordnance experts only speculation is possible. But it was decided meantime to suspend the modification work.

The statement, issued by acting secretary Hugh M. Milton, said that similar modifications, of a nature that remains secret, have been successfully completed "on hundreds of other missiles in other areas without incident." The changes are designed to improve the performance of the missiles.

Algiers Insurgents Demand De Gaulle Take Helm

New Regime Is Cheered By People

Algiers (AP)—Algeria's insurgent leaders got a roaring voice vote of approval Friday from 9,000 people massed before the government buildings.

The new regime—called the all-Algeria Committee of Public Safety—was constituted formally in a ceremony at the white-walled Moorish palace once inhabited by Paris-appointed French governors.

One by one members of the committee appeared on the great balcony to be cheered by the crowd. Each in turn proclaimed that the insurgents will rule until Gen. de Gaulle is returned to power in Paris.

In one of its first acts, the committee appealed to Frenchmen throughout the world to support de Gaulle.

The committee—virtually a self-sufficient government—is headed by Brig. Gen. Jacques Massu, French parachute troop commander, and the Algerian Cherif Sid Cara, a secretary of state for Algeria in past Paris governments.

"We are completely sure of victory," shouted Sid Cara.

The crowd roared back its approval.

St. Mark's Methodist Budget Set

A tentative minimum budget of $12,534 was approved by board of trustees at the fourth quarterly conference at St. Mark's Methodist Church Friday evening.

The church's pastor, Rev. S. A. Kruschwitz, reported membership of the church, which received its charter in Oct. 1956, has reached 149. Sunday school attendance is approximately 175.

The board announced establishment of a committee on planning and building, headed by A. R. (Jack) Way.

Other officers elected were: Dr. Niels Wodder and Dr. Foster Owen, trustees; Melvin James, Sunday School superintendent; Dean Welch, treasurer; Elmer Stephens, chairman of membership and evangelism; Mrs. Archie Campbell, chairman of the commission on education; Mrs. Joe Wentz, business chairman and Loren Belker finance commission chairman.

Weaver's New Press Policy Gives 'Better Service To All'

Lincoln Star Special

Washington—A new policy on press releases designed to give "better service to all press representatives and not showing preference to any one reporter or publication," was announced Friday by Nebraska's First District Congressman Phil Weaver.

He said the policy "will not exclude any representative from the press from interviewing me at any time, any hour or any place. It only means," he continued, "that I will make available the same release to all press representatives after the individual's interview has been published."

Weaver said press releases will be issued "from time to time from this office in accordance with the development of questions and problems," but added that "individual press interviews will be reduced to the minimum" in the interest of giving better service to all news media.

Explaining the reason for the policy statement, Weaver said an "open door policy" to all members of the press is "desirable" over a situation whereby individual interviews and individual releases are given to one representative of one newspaper.

He also stated that "frequent interviews, where the questions and answers are not reduced to writing, often lead to misunderstanding on what would place formal sentencing after June 7.

The jury's fixing of the death penalty, however, is binding on the judge under state law and the sentencing procedure is thus only a formality.

'Everything Possible'

Gaughan, commenting on the jury's decision, said he believed that Starkweather had a fair trial and that "everything possible was done for him." He said he and Matschullat will doubtless handle the appeal before the State Supreme Court.

But he said if the high court turns down the appeal he does not know if the case will be carried to federal courts and possibly eventually to the U.S. Supreme Court. He said he doubts he and Matschullat would be able to afford the expense involved (they were court-appointed to defend Starkweather and only their expenses in state courts will be paid by the county).

Gaughan said Starkweather's possible execution is probably at least one year away, due to the time necessary for appeal procedures, and the State Supreme Court would not be able to hear the case until next fall at the earliest.

Co. Atty. Scheele, commenting on the jury's verdict, released a statement which said:

"It is a correct and proper verdict and one that just had to be. It was absolutely necessary for the protection of the community and of society.

'Courageous Jury'

"It took a courageous jury such as this one to meet its responsibilities as good citizens and to fulfill its obligations to society."

The jury had 5 possible verdicts: guilty of first degree murder (with either death or life imprisonment as the penalty), guilty of second degree murder, guilty of manslaughter, innocent by reason of insanity, or innocent.

Scheele had asked the death penalty for Starkweather and the defense had asked in effect that he be found insane.

The defense based its insanity contention on the testimony of a psychologist and 2 psychiatrists, who claimed Starkweather has a "diseased and defective mind" and could not have known right from wrong when he admittedly shot Jensen in a storm cellar 1 1/4 miles east of Benet Jan. 27.

Right From Wrong

The ability to know right from wrong and to know the nature and quality of an act is the test for legal insanity.

But a prosecution psychologist and 2 psychiatrists claimed that Starkweather suffers only from a "personality disorder," and that he is "anti-social." But they firmly stated he is not sufficiently mentally disturbed to warrant commitment to a mental hospital.

The trial began May 5, and drew newsmen from throughout the country. Judge Spencer provided special seating arrangements for the press in the courtroom, which was filled with spectators at most of the sessions.

No incidents marred the trial and the spectators were for the most part orderly. Starkweather himself gave the lawmen guarding him no trouble whatsoever.

The 12 jurors who heard the case were:

Mrs. George McDonald Jr., Rt. 6; Mrs. Mildred Fagerberg, 3401 Pawnee; Anders H. Hallberg, 5716 Madison; Mrs. Bernice I. Volkmer, 7126 Thurston; Miss Olive E. L. Rosenberg, 735 So. 29th; Mrs. Adeline E. Muehleier, 1841 Pawnee; Mrs. Evelyn V. Russell, 4303 Hillside; Alvin M. Christiansen, 1726 So. 23rd; Mrs. Ellen E. Heuer, 2711 No. 48th; Raymond E. Swanson, 236 So. 27th; Mrs. Miriam F. McCully, 3619 Garfield; and John Svoboda, 6404 Kearney.

Mother Sobs

been led away, in handcuff belt and chains, Guy Starkweather said thoughtfully, "I thought it would be life. The jury was out long enough."

About the death penalty, Guy Starkweather said, "I guess Charlie was right about that. He's glad about the insanity part but I don't know if he's happy about the attorneys."

Charles' brother, 21-year-old Rodney stood by his parents, refusing comment to newsmen. "I don't have anything to say. I can't say how I feel," he declared.

Puffing Nervously

Tie askew, and puffing nervously on a cigarette, Charles' father was much more interested in telling Charles' feelings than his own.

He asked repeatedly about his wife until she appeared, calmer, and then said self-reproachfully, "I told her to have hope."

At one point, Defense Atty. William Matschullat came up to Mr. Starkweather to console him, and received a smile and handshake.

Matschullat reviewed the trial as "very fair" and the verdict as something "we must abide by" until appeal proceedings.

"The judge leaned over backwards from beginning to end to give that boy a fair trial and his constitutional safeguards. Everyone did."

'Disappointing'

Gaughan called the verdict "not a surprise, but disappointing." Questioned about Charles' possible testimony as a witness in the Caril Fugate trial, he said:

"That's up to Charlie. One day he says he wants to help her . . . and then turns around and says the opposite. I can't say."

"I don't think that her trial will have any effect on setting his death sentence. She no doubt implicated herself enough in that statement even if she didn't sign it. I think they've an airtight case against her without Charles Starkweather."

Dep. Co. Atty. Dale Fahrbrun grinned his approval at the outcome as he handed out prepared statements from Co. Atty. Elmer Scheele to the press.

'I Agree'

"I agree completely with Mr. Scheele . . . and the jury," he stated.

As the crowds of newsmen, spectators, officials and Court-house employees cleared out of the hallway and courtroom, a disgusted custodian, leaning on his broom and surveying the litter of flashbulbs, paper, cigarette butts, commented: "Thank God, it's over."

And as the Starkweather family left the Courthouse, Guy Starkweather told his wife, Helen, and son, Rodney, "We ought to go someplace and eat a big, fat steak."

Starkweather To Be 20th State Execution

By Len Colson

When bantam-killer Charles Starkweather is strapped in the electric chair at the Nebraska State Penitentiary, he will be the 20th man to die under Nebraska's capital punishment laws.

No woman has ever been executed in Nebraska.

Last man to walk to the electric chair was Roland Dean Sundahl who was electrocuted a few minutes after midnight Apr. 29, 1952, for the murder of a 16-year old carhop, Bonnie Lou Merrill, of Silver Springs. The Silver Creek High School girl was found in Lake Babcock, on Aug. 27, 1950.

After receiving 4 stays of execution, Sundahl was electrocuted 1 year after he was originally scheduled to die.

First, Only Lincolnite

The first and only Lincoln man to die in the chair was Frank E. Sharp, 49, for the first degree murder of his wife, Harriett on March 16, 1926. Sharp, who went to the chair on Oct. 19, 1928, was described as one of the "coolest customers" ever to sit in the electric chair.

Starkweather will be the 12th man to be electrocuted since 1913 when the Nebraska Legislature prescribed that as the form of capital punishment.

The previous method of capital punishment before 1913, hanging, had been established in 1901. Eight men were sent to the gallows in this method.

First To Hang

The first man to die on the gallows was Gottlieb Neigenfind, 28-year-old farmer, who was convicted of first degree murder in Pierce County in October, 1902. He was hanged in 1903.

Allen V. Crammer, 22, and A. B. Cole, 21, Howard County farmers, were the first 2 persons electrocuted by means of the electric chair. Both men were convicted for the murder of Grammer's mother-in-law, Mrs. Lulu Vogt of St. Paul. After receiving 18 reprieves, the 2 were electrocuted Dec. 20, 1920.

Starkweather Loses Life But Wins Cigaretts

The jury which sentenced Charles Starkweather to death Friday afternoon won the 19-year-old killer a bet, although whether he will enjoy his winnings is questionable.

Starkweather had bet defense psychiatrist Dr. John F. Steinman a pack of cigarettes Tuesday that the jury would "give me a battery charge."

And so by receiving the sentence to the electric chair the redhead has won his cigarettes.

Steinman has reportedly not yet "paid off."

CARIL 'NOT INTERESTED'

Caril Ann Fugate did not want to know how the trial of Charles Starkweather was progressing, according to John McArthur, Caril's court-appointed attorney.

McArthur told The Star Friday that he thought the verdict was just. "It's hard to find any sympathy for Charles, but I feel sorry for his family," he said.

Caril's father, William Fugate, said the jury had "a terrible decision to make, but if they didn't send Charles up, nobody would be safe."

Jet Flights Limit OK'd By Military

Washington (AP)—The military services agreed Friday night to reduce the number of jet flights made below 20,000 feet. The aim is "to minimize the risks of air collisions."

Lt. Gen. Elwood R. Quesada, chairman of the President's Air Coordinating Committee told a White House news conference the new restrictions would go into effect Saturday as a temporary measure.

He said no non-tactical jet flights would take off or land under visual flight rules except those to be conducted above 20,000 feet or off the federal airways, or specifically approved by the Civil Aeronautics Administrator.

Any flights below 20,000 feet and on federal airways will be made under instrument flight rules (IFR), that is, under ground control, Quesada added.

Earlier Friday, Senate investigators received suggestions that tighter restrictions on commercial flying might be another way to improve the safety of air travel.

Quesada explained the military services propose to curtail voluntarily certain military flying activities now permitted by the civil air regulations. It was said the curtailment would not affect defense patrols or fighter scrambles after reception of an aerial alert.

Police are still following any new leads that promise to throw any light at all on the circumstances surrounding the birth and death of a baby boy whose decomposed body was discovered in a Bus Depot locker May 2.

All leads to date have been followed but none of them gave the police any concrete information on the case, police said. Efforts to trace the case in which the body was found have been unsuccessful.

Flies and twigs found in the bundle with the baby proved to be species common to many parts of the United States. However, police suspect the body was brought to Lincoln and that the baby was not born inside their jurisdiction.

There is no way to prove, police said, whether the baby was born alive or dead.

Big Refinery Fire Still Out Of Control

... LOSS RUNS INTO THE MILLIONS

Long Beach, Calif. (AP)—Firemen Friday gave up all hope of trying to extinguish a raging oil refinery fire that already has cost millions of dollars and claimed 2 lives.

"We are not trying to put out the fire now," said County Battalion Chief Noel Manchester. "We can't. It will have to burn itself out."

The inferno-like blaze, which spewed rolling black clouds into the southern California skies, still is confined to the 40-acre Hancock Oil Co. refinery on the north slope of Signal Hill.

It is the worst refinery fire in the area in 30 years, firemen said. It started the previous afternoon.

Firemen have been plagued with low water pressure and the threat of new explosions. Pressure dropped to 5 pounds at times. At least 15 huge gasoline, fuel oil and other tanks of highly inflammable fuel have exploded, spewing rivers of fire and showering surrounding communities.

The holocaust was touched off when steam coils in a 60,000-barrel crude oil tank burst.

One worker, James W. Edwards, 66, of Fullerton, died a hero's death. He remained behind to shut off a valve and was trapped by the flames. The other victim, Woodward Langford, 49, Los Alamitos, perished after saving 4 other workers with his warning.

Officer Endures Force 83 Times His Weight

Alamogordo, N.M. (AP)—An Air Force captain at the Air Force Missile Development center Friday underwent a force 83 times the weight of his own body.

Air Force officials said this was the highest "G" force man has ever endured and survived.

Capt. E. L. Beeding, assistant chief of the bio-dynamics branch, at Holloman Air Development Center, went through a special human tolerance test at the center's Aeromedical Field Laboratory.

Seated in an upright and backward-facing position on a research sled during the run, Capt. Beeding absorbed a force equivalent to 11,620 pounds, 83 times his own body weight.

After the run he went into a state of shock but recovered within 10 minutes. He was taken to the base hospital for observation and treatment of a sore vertebra. He was then released.

Capt. Beeding's experience was the climax of over 2 years' work by the laboratory to determine the limits of human tolerance to "G" force.

"The record 83 G's is just about the top capacity that the human body can withstand in this particular position," Capt. Beeding said. "However, this theory must be substantiated by further

Bogus Check Suspects Ask Court-Appointed Attorneys

Bogus check suspects Mr. and Mrs. Tom Berry were arraigned before Lancaster County District Court Judge Harry A. Spencer Friday on forgery charges after a $1200 check writing spree in Lincoln.

The couple waived a preliminary hearing in Cou y Court but asked that the court appoint an attorney to represent them before they entered a plea.

Judge Spencer deferred the arraignment until he rules on their request. Following their arrest Thursday night Mrs. Berry admitted passing the Lincoln checks, police said, and told of similar operations in several west and southwestern states.

The 28-year-old man was charged with a $20 Feb. 25 forgery and she was charged with forging a $39.95 check the same day.

Spotted By Buyer

The 26-year-old woman was recognized by Dean McCoy, a Gold & Co. assistant buyer, when he was asked by Mrs. Mildred Beach, who works at the cosmetics counter, to approve a check Mrs. Beach suspected was not good.

Store employees in downtown stores had been on the lookout for Mrs. Berry. Bill Miller of the Miller and Paine camera department had snapped a picture of her several months ago while she was waiting for another of her checks to be approved at that store.

When the check proved to be no good, the picture was circulated widely in Lincoln stores.

McCoy said the first thing that caught his attention, however, was not the woman's appearance but the name she used on the check and the fact that the check was written on a bank the couple often used.

As soon as he saw her, he said, he knew she was the wanted woman. He followed her out of the store until store detectives he had alerted caught up with her.

The pair surrendered in a parking lot across the street from the store.

Donna Spomer Is Fined $18,000

Sentenced To 60 Days In Embezzlement

By Virgil Fallon

Donna J. Spomer, 29, of 501 B was sentenced to 60 days imprisonment and fined $18,000 Friday on federal charges involving the embezzlement of $23,692.70 from Union Loan and Savings Association at 209 So. 13th.

The former bookkeeper and part-time teller was charged with 6 counts of embezzling $9,150 and 3 counts of making false ledger entries amounting to $17,000.

Miss Spomer had pleaded no contest last March when arraigned in U. S. District Court and Judge Robert Van Pelt had deferred sentencing proceedings until Friday for further investigation.

Judge Van Pelt sentenced the woman to 60 days on count 1, but suspended a sentence of a year and a day on the remaining 2 counts, placing her on probation for 4 years after she serves the 60 days.

'Deterrent'

The judge told the defendant and her attorney, Lyle Holland, that "complete probation" was not desirable because justice "must also serve as a deterrent to others."

Judge Van Pelt noted that some 2,100 other women hold similar positions of trust in Lincoln firms and the court could not let such offense go unpunished.

"The fact that you are a woman was also taken into consideration," Judge Van Pelt said, "but if a man were standing before me now, I would have to give equal consideration."

"You have already been punished by the resulting publicity," he said. "Perhaps your family even more so."

'Willing To Repay'

Holland told the court, in requesting probation be considered, that the defendant is employed in another job and "is willing" to make restitution as she is able over a period of time.

Two of Miss Spomer's brothers, one an Illinois attorney, appeared in court and offered to have her live with their families.

Miss Spomer answered all questions in a low voice, but showed no outward emotion until the court session was over, when she broke into tears.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Dean Wallace said the woman has given no specific reasons for her acts, only that she spent some of the money for an auto, clothes, furniture, and dancing lessons.

Court officials said the $18,000 fine ($2,000 on each count) stands as a judgment against the defendant until paid and

MICROWAVE RADIO LONG DISTANCE TRANSMISSION INITIATED BY LT&T

The first use of microwave radio by the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Co., for transmission of long distance calls started Friday between Wahoo and Lincoln and Wahoo and Omaha.

Merle M. Hale, LT&T vice president, said the use of the new system marks a new era for the company in long distance transmission.

Later this year a similar system will be put in use to David City and ultimately to many points in the company's 22-county operating area.

Long distance pole lines between Omaha and Wahoo will be removed. Lines between Wahoo and Lincoln will be used for rural and other service.

120 Circuits

Area Manager Ed Dorland said the system will be equipped initially to handle 120 circuits which can be used for long distance conversations, telegraph and teletypewriter service and other special leased communications. Long distance calls from Wahoo to some 58 cities in southeast Nebraska will be dialed directly from one telephone to another over this system beginning July 6, he said.

The microwave radio signals will be beamed from a 70-foot antenna; tower at Wahoo to a 250-foot antenna tower near Brainard and from there to the antenna tower on the company's building at 15th and M at Lincoln. A 120-foot antenna tower will be used later on at David City.

Hale said this system can handle any type of transmission that can be sent over wires. It is almost "Storm proof" so that service interruptions from sleet, rain, wind and lightning will be practically eliminated.

The telephone system at Wahoo will be converted to dial operation on July 6, at 1 a.m., Mr. Dorland said. Dial To Stations Wahoo subscribers will dial not only local calls but will also be able to dial station-to-station long distance calls from their own telephones to some 250,000 telephones in southeast Nebraska. The long distance dialing area will comprise 59 dial exchanges in southeast Nebraska. Included will be Lincoln, Fremont, Omaha, Beatrice, Hastings, Grand Island, Seward, Plattsmouth and Ashland.

Backing Urged For Fluoridation

Lester Jensen of the Lincoln-Lancaster County Health Dept. urged members of the Community Advisory Health Council to back the controversial adoption of fluoridation measures for the city water supply.

Speaking at a meeting of the health council, Jensen said the Health Department will submit a resolution urging the City Council to take action on the question.

He said that public opinion is in favor of fluoridation by a 9-1 ratio, and the Department now has endorsements from 40 or 50 organizations, including the Lincoln Parent Teachers' Assn., which earlier headed an unsuccessful campaign for a fluoridation ordinance.

Future Of The Draft

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

Amid the many other problems of the land, the draft program for military service is coming in for its share of controversy. Discussion of the advisability and need for the draft will continue to mount until something is done to meet the day about a year from now when the current draft law expires.

There are no Americans who can say this is not a subject of some concern to them. If a family has no children or the children are either way below or way beyond the draft stage, there is still the question of our national security. Despite the fact that the age of missiles is upon us, the role of the individual in the armed forces is still of vital importance. There is no assurance today that the next war, if it should ever come, would not be conducted in much the same fashion as World War II.

There are many improved weapons and mankind's potential for destruction has skyrocketed in recent years but men will still have to conquer men if war would come. Even if the dreadful hydrogen bombs became a part of war, men would still be needed to deliver them and needed for other elements of warfare.

It, of course, is not a pleasant thought but one which must be faced if this nation is to retain its security. It is a thought which leaves little doubt that there must be a substantial military organization at the nation's disposal.

But the fact that a strong military is needed is not the greatest end of the controversy. The controversy rages over whether this military shall be supplied with manpower through the draft or on a voluntary basis. The big question is what means would be the most successful and most efficient. The current draft is unpopular among many authorities and the general public because it represents a system foreign to our democratic principles. It represents the use of government force against an individual's free will. It means depriving an individual of rights afforded other citizens.

It is a case, of course, where the end has been considered justification for the means. But there is growing sentiment that the desired end can be achieved by quite a different means. The current draft program has not been too successful.

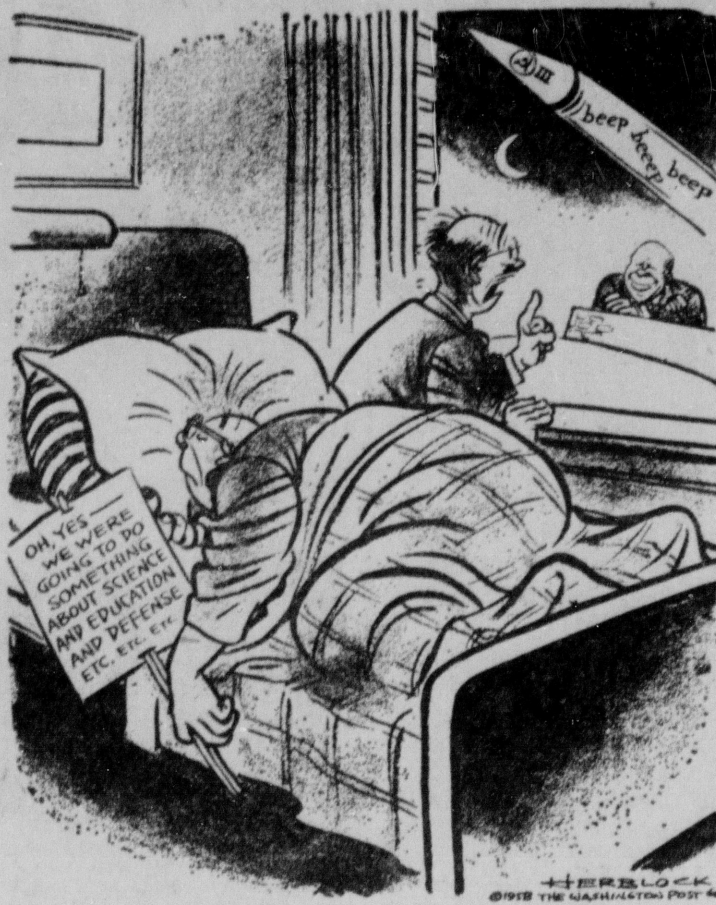

It has given the nation its needed manpower but it has done this at a sacrifice. Personnel have been trained for the period of their induction only to leave the service the very minute their time was up. The program has not given the military any prestige nor made it attractive to any large segment of the younger population.

There are many who believe that if the services underwent some major changes, a voluntary program would bring much more satisfying results. The fact that an individual would choose the service as a career rather than be forced into it would greatly improve the morale and determination of those in uniform. It is felt that many youths would make this choice if the service offered a more normal way of life.

This offering would include such things as salary equal to the potential in industry or business, opportunity for advancement based on merit as well as time, greater recognition of personnel as individuals, and other changes. Perhaps by next year no solution will be in sight and the draft will be extended but it promises to be a lively issue for the coming months.

DREW PEARSON

U.S. Has Plan If France Unfriendly

Editor's Note.—Drew Pearson today reports from Europe on the crisis in France and the crisis in the Near East.)

En Route Behind The Iron Curtain.—The United States is prepared to take drastic action in case of a worsening political crisis in France. Because France is the heart of the NATO alliance for the defense of Europe, and because all supply lines, and pipe-lines run across France, vitally important changes would be necessary in case a hostile government should take over Paris.

Therefore, three alternatives have been decided upon, after careful consideration both in Paris and by the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington. These have been approved by the National Security Council as follows:

1. The United States is prepared to move its entire atomic stockpile out of France. It can be moved at a moment's notice to previously prepared bases in Spain or Germany.
2. In case of disastrous French civil war, the United States would also pull out all military forces to North Africa.
3. If the Communists took over, the United States would intervene militarily—though only as a last resort and only in cooperation with French middle-of-the-road political leaders.

It was just six months ago that I drove up a winding road, climbing the Lebanese mountains from the Mediterranean like an amusement park roller-coaster, to call on President Camille Chamoun, now facing civil war in Lebanon.

President Chamoun I found to be completely frank and most charming. I asked him the question which John Foster Dulles has been asking himself for a long time: "Can the United States trust Nasser?"

"Not for 24 hours," was Chamoun's categorical reply. He's had reason since to recall the correctness of this statement.

American prestige in the Near East eroded because we have had no policy. It has shifted with the changing minds of those in Washington. And when shrewd, tough Arab leaders know Washington can't make up its mind, they react like children before a vacillating schoolteacher. Here is the record of American policy in the Near East:

1. After Ike took office in 1953, he sent a pearl-handled revolver to President Naguib, then head of the Nasser revolutionaries.
2. In June, 1955, Egypt began bartering cotton for Russian arms.
3. In August, 1955, Secretary Benson wanted to dump his surplus of American cotton, but Dulles argued that it would hurt Egyptian cotton. The U.S. Ambassador had already reported that Egypt was trading cotton for Russian arms.
4. Despite this arms deal, Dulles began talking about lending Nasser money to build the Aswan dam.
5. In July, 1956, Dulles suddenly yanked the promise of the Aswan dam away from Nasser.
6. In October, 1956, as the Israeli army was within a few hours of Cairo and as the French and British bombed Cairo, Nasser took refuge in a cellar in a Cairo suburb. His policies had failed and he feared assassination by his own young army officers. At that time the Eisenhower administration came to his rescue.

No Surprise In Recent Elections

WASHINGTON — To say that Republicans and Democrats alike are pleased with what they themselves did in the Pennsylvania and Ohio primaries is not the whole story of Tuesday's voting.

The size of the vote cast indicates that Democrats are still doing very well in Pennsylvania, and less well in Maryland. But in Pennsylvania, for example, Representative Hugh D. Scott Jr., the only Republican in the Philadelphia city delegation, was high man on all tickets in the city voting and in the state as well. He carried all 67 counties.

The slate headed by the veteran Pittsburgh mayor, David Lawrence, for governor and Governor George M. Leader for senator, lost only one county and got 85 per cent of the total Pennsylvania Democratic vote. The lone holdout was the home county of Lieutenant Governor Roy Furman, who ran against Lawrence.

Given the Democratic trend and the fact that so many Democratic votes were cast despite few contests, that party must be conceded the edge. Yet state experts regard Scott's showing as outstanding; with his experience and campaigning abilities, they expect him to give Leader trouble.

All Democrats are disappointed in Harold E. Stassen's poor showing in his race for the Republican nomination for Pennsylvania governor. They are sure Lawrence can trouble Arthur T. McGonigle, the Reading pretzel manufacturer, who beat Stassen, but they would have liked to keep Stassen politically alive as a symbol of Republican opposition to Vice-President Richard M. Nixon.

The Maryland surprise is the harmony that Democrats there were able to achieve at long last. With a heavy edge in registration, they have been losing the state for years to Republican candidates of no distinction or creative energies.

But a unity slate headed by Comptroller Millard Tawes for governor and Baltimore Mayor D'Alesandro Jr. won a clear-cut primary sweep. Tawes ran away with all the unit votes and will face the World War II Marine hero Representative James P. S. Devereux, D'Alesandro, a formidable vote-getter in his big city, did surprisingly well outside it for the privilege of challenging the colorless incumbent, Senator J. Glenn Beall. Stories Of Famous Hymns

Out Of The Shadow-Land

Out of the shadow-land, into the sunshine,
Cloudiness, eternal, that fades not away;
Softly and tenderly, Jesus will call us,
Home, where the ransomed are gathering today.
Out of the shadow-land, weary and changeable,
Out of the valley of sorrow and night,
Into the rest of the life everlasting
Into the summer of endless delight.
Out of the shadow-land, over life's ocean,
Into the rapture and joy of the Lord;
Safe in the Father's house, welcomed by angels,
Ours the bright crown and eternal reward.
Chorus: Silently, peacefully, angels will bear us
Into the beautiful mansions above;
There shall be rest from earth's tolling forever,
Safe in the arms of God's infinite love.

By HORACE B. POWELL

Many a Christian soul, on the threshold of eternity, has found comfort and peace in this hymn of Heaven written back in 1900 by Ira D. Sankey.

The hymn is of interest, apart from the beauty of its imagery and message, for two reasons. It was the last song for which Mr. Sankey, the great gospel singer and composer, wrote words and music, and it was made to be sung at a memorial service for Dr. Dwight L. Moody, the gospel preacher with whom Mr. Sankey was associated for so many years in world-famous revivals.

Dr. Moody died a few days before Christmas, in 1899, and when a memorial program was planned soon afterward in Carnegie Hall, New York, Mr. Sankey wrote the hymn stanzas as they appear above, set them to music, and sang them at the service.

Mental Health Course

Omaha, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Thank goodness, all psychiatrists and psychologists aren't as confused as the three testifying for the prosecution in the Starkweather case.

If Starkweather had been given proper interest and psychiatric help several years ago, he wouldn't have the tragic record he does now. When will we awaken to the fact that we must support an all-out mental health program in order to prevent such future tragedies? We are ready to prosecute in such cases, but pass the buck when it comes to effective measures to prevent future cases.

It is very understandable that people are apprehensive of psychiatrists and psychiatry, when we have so few honest and ably skilled personnel in the field. Too many need a good measure of their own treatment. Unless society arises to a re-education program in the field of human behavior, we are going to continue to be subjected to these medical "excuses" in the field of psychiatry.

Good Will Tours

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: It seems as if the "hero" market is accumulating a surplus of its own:

He journeyed far, he journeyed wide on many good will trips.
He traveled many miles deluxe in planes and trains and ships.
He kept his name in headlines all at government expense:
A privilege not shared by other would-be presidents.

He met with some success as our Good Will Ambassador
To countries whose good will we'd bought and paid good money for:
Where all he had to do was smile and give his big "Hello!"
And leave them as he found them:
Just maintain the status quo.

But on his latest good will tour to lands south of the border,
Good will, was less in evidence than tumult and disorder.
And though his tour turned out a flop, with good will rains near zero.
The GOP now labels him as their returning hero.

Let's stop these campaign good will tours at government expense.
And help the poor taxpayer save his dollars, dimes and cents.
The White House has a hero now, whom we'll be glad to trade
For statesmanship and leadership of somewhat higher grade.

Program For Youth

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: As a member of the board of trustees of the Home Guard Foundation, which was incorporated in 1955 to promote the moral, intellectual, social and physical welfare of youth of whatsoever race, creed, nationality and economic status, I am greatly disturbed over some of the tragic incidents we see taking place in our city and state every day. It is plainly evident that adults throughout the nation are actually in a state of emotional instability and cannot provide the security for youth that is the first requirement in affecting a counteracting program against influences and conditions contributive to juvenile delinquency.

The adult and teen-age members of the organization are attempting to establish in Lincoln are working hard in hand to promote every effort to take care of the little problems of parents and teen-agers before they grow into the big problems that cause so much disturbance among our citizens and are so costly, not only in money but in the irreparable, pathetic damage to young lives.

Belgian Fair To See American Rodeo

NEW YORK — Somewhere on the high or low seas of the Atlantic at the moment, on the good Norwegian Ark Hoegh Silver Beam, bound for Antwerp, God save King Baudouin, are 219 head of livestock: five buffalo, 40 steers, 20 bulls, and more horses than have beaten Silky Sullivan in the last fortnight.

The beasts' purposes are two fold, 1) to show the visitors at the Brussels world's fair that biped Americans are more virile than the fashion show and cockeyed art at the U.S. pavilion might indicate and, 2) to enable Bob Hope and John Wayne to pay their income taxes.

We'll consider point two first. Hope and Wayne are major stockholders in something called Cramer Rodeo Shows, of which Gene Autry is president and, still of which, a fellow named Casey Tibbs, who can actually ride a horse, is star performer. The company hopes to gross $250,000 a week at harvesting fair-goers, even though the rodeo will be outside the fairgrounds proper.

I have at hand some alarming statistics about photography, picked up recently while in Rochester, N.Y., home of Eastman Kodak and of my insurance man, Art

Holtzman, a latter day Louis Jacques Mande Daguerre. Those blurred or wonderful shots you took last year, added up to a $2 billion business. If you shot in color, the bill came to $640,000,000 nationally. Just 55 per cent of all pictures were taken by women. (The remaining 45 per cent was directed by them, you can be sure.)

The family, en toto, remains the number one subject in the matter of exposed film, even in those days of the off-beat triangular F.2 with a Japanese reat-pleat. Forty eight per cent of all film shot last year concerned family groups, kids were second, vacation trips third.

The astonishing number of 31,500,000 U.S. families own cameras and another 1,200,000 regularly rent cameras. Still another 4,300,000 families own cameras but say to hell with them, and don't use them, and this is a group we'd like to talk to someday, too. There are 1,150,000 do-it-in-one-minute cameras regularly strewn out 60-second productions, and a quarter million three-dimensional buffs are shoving viewers at as many more or less reluctant guests right now. This year of recession will be photographed, embarrassingly enough, by 5,900,000 new addicts.

OFF THE RECORD

By Ed. Reed

"We need new shoe laces every day now that Junior has learned to tie his shoes!"

The Postal Rate Bill

The President is not expected to reject the postal rate hike bill although the Congress came forward with a compromise which did not fulfill all of his expectations.

The measure which passed the Senate 88 to 0 and the House by 379 to 0 manifests enough strength that a veto is not indicated.

The public views the bill with divided mind although it is resigned to paying four cents instead of three to send a first class letter, and it is not against the 10 per cent pay hike the bill provides for postal workers. The service has been singularly unfortunate in recent years in its quest for a pay scale that would tend to equalize its position with the higher cost of living. The forthcoming 10 per cent raise, which incidentally is to be retroactive to January 1, 1958, will pick up some of the gap.

A fair and constructive postal rate bill is difficult to achieve for the postal service is many things, not the least a part of the business fabric of the nation. The tendency of recent years to load the postal rates of news bearing media, of parcel post and services of special value to business seems to have been less justified in the public interest, but mostly indicated as a good way to get the money without fighting it out with the general public. Meanwhile, certain kinds of dump mail have cluttered the household boxes considerably out of proportion to its welcome. But we do not live in a perfect world and it cannot be said that the postal service is exempt from the pressures of an inflationary time.

Unchanging PTA

Except for a jarring jibe by one of the speakers, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers got through its entire 1958 convention with an unruffled holding action for education as it is and has been, and for parental attitudes untouched by evangelism.

The kinship of thinking of professional education and PTA leadership is remarkably close, which can be summarized by saying that there is nothing wrong with education that a good deal more money plus more public adulation cannot fix.

That became evident through the sharp rejoinder of a national PTA spokesman to a jibe by Chet Huntley, National Broadcasting Company commentator who said, "We are not only short of scientists, but of poets as well. We are long on mediocrity . . ."

Mr. Huntley is deserving of criticism, not because what he said is untrue. It is true. He was wrong in causing a truth to break into pieces and lose its essence because he failed to prepare his audience to receive it. Better he had saved his breath.

Silence Is Golden

Silence is golden, the saying goes, but it has some other advantages. It can also pay pretty good dividends as proved by a recent wire story about a dog.

The animal, it seems, had roamed a neighborhood for a number of months. The dog then had a litter of pups which centered the neighborhood interest on her.

It was then that the neighbors discovered that all of them had been feeding the dog, each believing that the poor animal was getting food nowhere else. The discovery also explained why the dog appeared not to be hungry every now and then when offered a tasty meal.

The only reason the dog was able to get away with this chiseling was by keeping silent. In this, of course, the animal had no choice but that is one of the natural advantages given to members of the animal kingdom.

Governor's Lady

Nebraska has many reasons for pride—and one of them is the attractive Mrs. Victor E. Anderson, the Governor's lady.

Looking very cool and chic Mrs. Anderson was photographed as she was about to embark upon a sight-seeing trip in Miami Beach, Fla., where the Governors' Conference was held this week.

Governor and Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Anderson's mother, Mrs. Ross May, planed into Lincoln Friday evening.

SUBURBIA

Usually variety is our keynote, however this morning our Park Manor residents seem concerned with but one subject—farewell courtesies to departing neighbors.

PARK MANOR

Mr. and Mrs. Don Lee and their daughters, Sandra, Beth Ann, Patti and Kristie, plan to leave Lincoln on Thursday, May 29, for their new home in Normal, Ill.

In farewell courtesy to Mr. and Mrs. Lee, a group of their neighbors entertained at a no-host party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Beach last Sunday evening. On hand for the send-off steak fry were the Rev. and Mrs. Verne Spindell, Maj. and Mrs. Rowley Gillingham, Capt. and Mrs. Lawrence Poteet, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Delp, and Mr. and Mrs. Beach.

Last Saturday the younger set of the neighborhood entertained in honor of Patti, Sandra and Beth Ann Lee at a cook-out held at the Rowley Gillingham home. Dinner was followed by a roller skating party, and taking part in the festivities of the evening were Sandra and Michael Palmer, Toby and Candy Beach, Larry, Lorelie and Gary Poteet, Mark, Margarita, Marty and Michael Gillingham, Sharon, Katherine and Ricky Delp, and Patricia and Peggy Spindell.

Courtesies to Mr. and Mrs. Lee during the coming week will include informal dinner parties given by Mr. and Mrs. Burl Richardson on Sunday, and Mr. and Mrs. Randall Koop on Wednesday evening.

As you may remember Maj. and Mrs. Dean Foster and their children also will be moving from Park Manor late this summer to make their home in Fuchew, Japan where Maj. Foster will be stationed.

On Sunday the Foster family and Maj. and Mrs. Benton Fielder and their children, who will leave Lincoln late in June for their new home at Westover Air Force Base at Springfield, Mass., will be honored at a farewell picnic given by a group of friends from the Christ Methodist Church. The affair will be held at Pioneers Park, and in charge of arrangements for the afternoon are Mrs. John Hossack and Mrs. Charles Olsen.

Officers Of LAFB Bowlers

When the members of the bowling league of the Lincoln Air Force Base Officers Wives Club met on Friday for their weekly session at Hollywood Bowl, they took a few minutes away from their game to elect and install new officers.

Mrs. Gerald Miller (at left) was elected president and other new officers are (from left) Mrs. Chesley E. Lightfoot, vice president; Mrs. Sidney Spilseth, secretary; Mrs. Glen Hessler, treasurer; and Mrs. George Hecker, sergeant-at-arms.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Miss Evans Honored

—there are numerous things of interest on the week end agenda—guests and guest courtesies, travelers—dancing clubs and this and that, all of which make news.

The Revelers Club members will be dining and dancing at a "patio" party to be held at Hotel Cornhusker this evening. The guest list for the dinner dance—the last of the current season—will include Mr. and Mrs. Ray Simons of Fremont; Mr. and Mrs. James Buxton of Tulsa, Okla.; Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Dusenberry of Beatrice; Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Waterbury, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth McCaw, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Waltemath, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Lunde, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hamann, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Sands, Mr. and Mrs. George Wright, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lawrie, Dr. and Mrs. Hodson Hansen and Maj. and Mrs. Gerald Richter.

—among the guests we had in mind are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Krieger (Carolyn Burt) and their family who have arrived from St. Louis for a visit with Mrs. Krieger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Burt, and Mr. Krieger's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Krieger. The visitors will remain until after Memorial Day.

—also on Lincoln's guest list are Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Crittenden of San Carlos, Calif., former Lincoln residents. During their stay in town Mr. and Mrs. Crittenden are dividing their time as house guests between Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Ledford and Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Scofield.

Since their arrival numerous courtesies have been given for the visitors—on Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. L. A. White were a dinner host and hostess at their home, complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Crittenden. On Wednesday morning Mr. and Mrs. Crittenden were honored when Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Grubb entertained a guest eightsome at breakfast at their home, and on Thursday evening the visitors were complimented by Mr. and Mrs. Will Hinman who were a dinner host and hostess at the University Club.

Shortly after their arrival in Lincoln Mr. and Mrs. Crittenden celebrated their 49th wedding anniversary, and in honor of the event a group of their friends, all members of an old bridge club, entertained at Cotner Terrace.

Mr. and Mrs. Crittenden will spend a week visiting relatives in Davenport, Ia., and upon their return to Lincoln will be honored at more parties.

—speaking of courtesies brings us to the brides-elect —Among them is Miss Carolyn Carter who, as you know, has chosen June 14 for her marriage to Jack Holmquist.

This morning Miss Carter will be honored when Mrs. Lyle Hans, Mrs. O. J. King and Mrs. Jerry Brownfield are coffee hostesses at the home of Mrs. Hans. Forty guests have been invited for the hours of 10 o'clock-to-12 o'clock. The bride-elect will be presented with a hostess gift.

—complimenting Miss Carter and her fiancé on Friday evening were Mr. and Mrs. E. Shelden Hallett who entertained at dinner at their home. Dinner places were arranged for 12.

An early week party for Miss Carter was the luncheon for which Mrs. Philip Aitken was hostess on Tuesday at the Lincoln Country Club. The guest list numbered 12.

—Friday also was courtesy day for Miss Bette Osterlund whose marriage to William A. Fraser, Jr., will take place on June 10.

The party hostess was Mrs. Allen Wilson who entertained a group of Gamma Phi Beta sisters of the bride-elect at a dessert luncheon at her home. The soon-to-be bride was presented with a bathroom shower.

—there's an exciting summer ahead for Miss Betty Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Sullivan and a student at Southeast High School. The young Miss Sullivan will leave with her grandfather, Frank Sery of Madison, on June 8, for a summer abroad.

The travelers will fly to New York where they will board plane for Brussels where they will take a good look at the World's Fair. From Brussels they will fly to Prague, and into Czechoslovakia by rail to spend a few days visiting Mr. Sery's relatives. Then will come Italy, France, Holland, Spain —and on and on—Miss Sullivan and her grandfather plan to return home some time in August.

New Board

Alumnae members of Chi Omega sorority recently elected Mrs. William Schenck president of the group for the coming year.

Other new officers are Miss Betty Jean Holcomb, vice president; Mrs. Don Scarbrough, secretary; Mrs. Joyce Young, treasurer; and Mrs. George Gaughan, corresponding secretary.

Held Tea

The members of Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, entertained their mothers recently at their annual spring tea held in the chapter rooms.

Following a welcome by chapter president, Miss Jo Clark, to which Mrs. Beulah Inbody responded, a program of songs was presented by Mrs. Les Rink, accompanied by Mrs. Wayne Matthes, and Mrs. Robert Graves gave a reading of poetry.

In charge of arrangements for the tea was Miss Gladys Hablitzel assisted by Mrs. Les Rink, Mrs. Rus Carriker and Mrs. Archie McConnell.

The chapter held its final meeting of the season on Tuesday evening and made plans for entertaining a group of children on June 8 at Pioneers Park.

Bancroft PTA members entertained at tea Friday afternoon at the school honoring Miss Clara Evans of the Bancroft School faculty who is retiring this spring after more than 20 years of teaching in the Lincoln schools.

Dear Abby . . .

Don't Believe All!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine moved into a new home and I wanted to give her a little gift. I do nice crocheting so I made her a three-piece doily set. I washed and starched it and wrapped it in tissues and ribbons. I know doilies aren't being used much nowadays but I thought these were special. She said she loved them. A friend called me and told me not to feel hurt if I never saw my doilies used, because this lady said she loved them only to make me feel good but she had no intention of cluttering up her new house with anything so old-fashioned as doilies. My problem is, should I ask for the doilies back (I could sell them for $10 a set, I'm sure) or should I skip it?

"CHAIN ONE, TWO"

DEAR "CHAIN": Skip it, certainly. You have only the word of this "friend" (some friend?) who could have made up the vicious lie just to hurt you. If the lady to whom you gave the doilies said she loved them—believe her.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to tell that woman who signed herself "CAPABLE OF HAVING MY OWN" a few things for calling adopted children "second-hand, tossed - out merchandise." HAVING a child doesn't make a woman a mother. Digs can reproduce. She is darned lucky she IS capable of having her own because if the adoption agency investigated HER, she'd never get an adopted child. They are very particular about who gets their babies. Pardon me, Lady, but your ignorance is showing.

BOILING MAD

DEAR ABBY: I am married and have three children. I don't get out much so I like to talk to my friends on the telephone. This one friend of mine gets me sore. When I call her up she always cuts me short by saying something is burning on the stove or somebody is at the door. I am tired of these excuses. What should I do?

CUT SHORT

DEAR CUT: People who have time to kill on the phone usually call someone who hasn't. Find another telephone pal.

DEAR ABBY: I have a lovely daughter-in-law but she looks like she belongs in a circus. She won't get on a scale, but I think it would take a freight scale to weigh her. She has had four children. By looking at her you can't tell if she is about ready to have the baby or if she has already had it. She eats all day long and I am afraid she will bust out of her skin. Can you tell me a smooth way to get her to lose some weight without hurting her feelings?

MOTHER-IN-LAW

DEAR MOM: If you want to help your daughter-in-law don't be too concerned if the manner in which you get her on a diet is "smooth" or "rough" . . . Please, beg, bribe, but get her to a doctor and let him take it from there.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of this paper. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

The Best Time Is Storytime

In this age of Sputniks, Vanguard and Jupiters anything can happen—and often does. The thinking of the world is different today than it was even yesterday—and so are its activities.

There is one thing that has not changed—the small fry's love of a story—a read-from-a-book story—with a happy ending.

So—the Lincoln Junior League has sponsored a Storytime Hour for the very young set, the four year-olds and the five-year-olds, at the South Branch Library. The project under the direction of Mrs. Jonathan Waterbury and Mrs. Lee Chapin began on Thursday, March 13, and has continued on alternate Thursdays since that time. There is one more storytime session before the project ends for the summer. But next autumn the Junior League and its storytellers will be back at the South Branch Library to delight the ears and hearts of the very young for another year.

In the picture we find Mrs. Jonathan Waterbury reading the story "Hucklebones", to her young audience. The story, we hear, also was illustrated with film strips that coincide with the reading.

Chapel Ceremony

MRS. RICHARD HILLIGOSS

In the presence of members of the family, the marriage of Miss Naoma Jean Fritts, daughter of Mrs. Nona Fritts and Merwin Fritts, to Richard Hilligoss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Hilligass, was solemnized Friday evening, May 23, in the chapel of the Second Presbyterian Church. The lines of the 7 o'clock service were read by the Rev. Ellis Butler, and Mrs. F. Gerald Hansen, organist, played the wedding music.

As her sister's maid of honor and only attendant, Miss Pearl Fritts of South Gate, Calif., wore a full-skirted frock of pastel yellow faille with white trim, fashioned in the daytime mode. Her accessories were white and her costume was completed by a white orchid.

Dexter Hilligoss served his brother as best man.

For her wedding, the bride chose an afternoon ensemble of ice blue polished cotton. The sleeveless bodice was covered by a bolero jacket designed with three-quarter sleeves, and the skirt was caught into soft fullness. She wore a white half-hat and white accessories, and carried a small Bible ornamented with a white orchid.

A reception for the members of the family and a small group of friends was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilligoss will make their home at 1905 Sewell.

Financial Support For Higher Study Lagging In Great Plains: Weaver

Manhattan, Kan.—“No where is the need for a major financial breakthrough in the support of higher education more urgent than in the Great Plains region.” Dean John C. Weaver of the University of Nebraska's Graduate College said Friday evening.

Dr. Weaver

He called upon the educators of the Big Eight schools to tell the public “exactly what its obligations to education is going to have to be.”

The former dean of the Kansas State College's School of Arts and Sciences spoke to the annual banquet of Kansas State's chapter of American Assn. of University Professors on the topic, “They Also Serve Who Only Stand and Think?”

He said that if the Big Eight schools are to survive, “we must abandon the notion that we can effectively establish and defend our desired standards by comparing our salary scales, equipment needs and buildings with each other.”

“Horseback Resources” “We are going to have to tell our legislators and those who elect them . . . that the 5 and 10% increases we have been rocking along on in recent years are horseback resources in a jet propulsion race.”

The Nebraskan urged the educators to establish with clarity “the comparisons of our meager and totally inadequate institutional resources with the schools of the Big Ten and of the Atlantic and Pacific seaboard. Let us insist that our states face up to the realities of life.”

Dr. Weaver said that Kansas State and Nebraska are losing their life blood in the form of capable staff “to more adequately supported institutions of every other region of the country, even to the population thin but forward looking states of the mountain and intermountain west.” Universities, such as Indiana, Illinois, and Minnesota, he said, have been achieving in recent years annual salary budget increases of from 20 to 30%, and Pennsylvania State University has announced that it will seek increases at the 45% level.

“For us to be timid at this time is: to shirk our responsibilities as educators; to court academic oblivion for our institutions; and to ask the people of these states to admit that mediocrity or less is the limit of their aspirations and the best of which they are capable.”

“I deny that this is so and I believe that if properly informed the people of our region would give inadequacy a ringing denial also.”

Dr. Weaver admitted that when the public is given the honest facts, there will be “cries of anguish and loud, vociferous criticism.”

But, he added, “it will be better to have the public grinding its teeth about higher education than yawning over it.”

Turning to the arguments of “elite” versus “mass” education, he said the land-grant institutions should be the last to subscribe to the notion of education for the “elite.”

Maximize Talents “We must not falter before the gargantuan task of maximizing the talents of the broadly increasing number of potential students.”

Ten men of the class of 1970 can be counted upon to make advances that just in plain dollars and cents will be worth more than the cost of educating their entire generation, he said.

“Somewhere in our academic halls will emerge the individual who will finally bring atomic fusion to full dress constructive usefulness to man.

“In some college class is, or soon will be, the student who will for all eternity erase the dreaded fear of cancer.

Training Course For Rehabilitation Counselors Ends

A 2-day training course for counselors in rehabilitation services closed at the Statehouse following discussions on problems connected with employment of the physically handicapped.

Counselors from rehabilitation districts over the state, and counselors for Services for the Blind, attended the meeting.

The closing session featured job analysis procedures necessary to gear physically handicapped persons to employment and how to analyze what it takes in physical capacities to do a certain job.

Those giving instructions to the counselors on the final day included Harry Hines, state director of Services for the Blind; Mrs. Mary Archerd and Howard Watson, of the State Employment Security office; and Drs. John Brown, Janet Palmer, Frank Stone and H. O. Paulson, all of Lincoln. The next counselor workshop will be held in the fall, probably either at Hastings or Grand Island.

YOU TO WHOM EATING AT BISHOPS WILL BE A NEW EXPERIENCE

Why haven't you eaten at Bishops? Our survey showed it may have been the problem of bringing the children along — of supposedly high eating out costs — perhaps it just plain hadn't occurred to you — maybe you men hadn't realized you get a wonderful steak at Bishops — perhaps the children wanted hamburgers — or any number of other reasons.

May we suggest — just try Bishops once — and we're sure eating at Bishops will become a regular event on your schedule of special family enjoyments.

YOU GET MORE TO Enjoy WHEN EATING OUT AT A Bishop CAFETERIA

Q. Do the new food features at Bishops mean a limiting of your usual fine, wide selection of dishes?

A. Emphatically not — our new features are an expansion of our regular selection. They provide those foods everyone likes best with traditional favorites or preferences of the younger set.

Q. Can large quantity cooking be good eating?

A. Often not! Actually, at Bishops large quantity cooking is not practiced. Small quantities are continuously prepared throughout each meal time to provide the freshest, tastiest foods possible.

Q. What quality provisions do you buy?

A. The very choice! Bishops quality standard is uncompromisingly the highest. Our suppliers will tell you Bishops buy only the very best!

Q. Does eating out at Bishops mean self-service?

A. No! Not at all! You choose just the delicious dishes you desire — you see what you get — then your dinner tray is carried and you are graciously served at your table and provided with any additional service you may desire.

Q. How about Bishops prices? Are they high?

A. Decidedly not! Many consider our prices low! The economies of skilled operation are passed on to you.

Q. Will I like to eat at Bishops?

A. Yes — you'll love it. Every year we serve over 5 million meals annually! Among our most enthusiastic boosters are many who thought they didn't like to eat out at a cafeteria.

Lady Dies In Enders Blaze

Enders, Neb. — An elderly woman, Miss Nellie McCoy, lost her life by suffocation in a fire destroying the home of Mrs. Maggie Collins here.

Although Miss McCoy was quite feeble she was able to get about. She had lived with Mrs. Collins for a number of years.

When she discovered the house ablaze in the early morning hours, Mrs. Collins called Miss McCoy and thought the latter had made her way from the burning structure. However, Miss McCoy apparently either failed to hear the warning or was already unconscious when Mrs. Collins called her.

Imperial firemen had the flames under control when they ran out of water. While they drove to Enders Dam for more water, the blaze got another start and the 4-room house was completely destroyed.

Mrs. Collins was hospitalized for shock.

Colleges Will Share $7,000

Omaha (AP)—Dr. Donald Typer, president of Doane College, accepted a $7,000 check from the United States Steel Foundation Friday in behalf of the Nebraska Independent College Foundation.

Seven Nebraska schools, including Doane, will share in the grant. Doane gets $859.65, Dana, $792; Duchesne College of Omaha $785.55, Hastings $1,129.65; Nebraska Wesleyan $1,309.70; and Union College, Lincoln, $1,175.45.

Separate grants were made to the University of Nebraska College of Medicine and Creighton University.

The grant to the Independent College Foundation is part of $2 million being distributed among 655 of the nation's privately-supported colleges and universities by U.S. Steel.

The check was turned over to Dr. Typer and Dr. C. C. Madsen, president of Dana, by Drenge Bjornara of U.S. Steel.

Broadened Tax Base Petition Drive 'Slowing'

The Nebraska Tax Equity Council's petition drive seeking an amendment providing a broadened tax base slowed down in return results, but is expected to pick up within the next 16 days, an NTEC spokesman said Friday.

Don Kline, NTEC secretary, made the comment upon his return from Western Nebraska.

Kline said he found many Western Nebraskans confusing the completion of the petition signatures of the Consumers Public Power and Omaha Public Power District proposal earlier this week with the tax council's petition.

Opinion Given On Requisition Buying Systems

The attorney general has handed down a multi-pronged opinion regarding requisition purchasing systems used by county boards.

The opinion, requested by Gerald B. Buechler, Hall County attorney, said a county board in counties under 200,000 population:

—May set up a requisition system for the purchase of materials and equipment by county officers.

—A county board member may, under limited circumstances, act as issuing officer for such requisitions.

—A county board member, who acts as issuing officer for such requisitions, may not exercise any discretion as to the issuance of such requisitions, or control the purchase by budget items as to quantity, brand, place of purchase, cost or time of purchase.

—Bids are not required for purchase of supplied and materials and equipment by county officers.

—While not required, the county officer may ask for bids to be submitted on items he wishes to purchase if he so desires.

Clarence S. Beck, attorney general, and Cecil S. Brubaker, assistant attorney general, signed the opinion.

Tot's Death Probe Ends In England

Oxford, England (AP) — Results from an investigation into the death of 3-year-old Lincoln-born Debra Klipsch have been forwarded to the U.S. Air Force and the British Home Office.

Police said they have completed the routine investigation into the death of the daughter of a U.S. Air Force sergeant stationed in England. The tot was found dead March 10 in an auto trailer in which the family lived near the big U.S. Air base at Brize Norton.

Debra was hospitalized in Lincoln at 8 months of age as the result of cruelty admitted by her mother in Lancaster County District Court, and Mrs. Klipsch pleaded guilty to an assault and battery charge.

Later Debra was given to her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Klipsch, Spiceland, Ind., in temporary custody, but she was returned to her parents by a Lincoln juvenile court order when the sergeant left for England.

Five Students Die In Crash

Marissa, Ill. (AP) — A speeding car crashed into a concrete bridge siding Friday, killing 5 university upper-classmen returning from a field trip in St. Louis. A blow-out apparently threw the car out of control.

One man was killed instantly, 2 others died en route to a Belleville, Ill., hospital and the other 2 men died shortly after arriving.

All were students at Southern Illinois University in Carbondale.

Police said they may have lain unattended for more than an hour at the crash scene, near Marissa.

Health Unit OKs Urban Renewal

Mayor Bennett Martin said a Community Advisory Health Council resolution favoring urban renewal will be put before the City Council at the Monday meeting.

The resolution, approved by the executive committee of the health council, urges the City Council to "act promptly in establishing urban renewal authority."

The resolution further states that delay in establishing an urban renewal program "would only intensify the problem."

The resolution, adopted at the last meeting before the CAHC summer break, said obsolescence of business buildings, streets, houses and parks in certain areas contribute to juvenile delinquency and cause extra expenses to the city.

returned to Lincoln late Friday from the Governors Conference at Florida where the work of the committee, of which Gov. Anderson is a member, was 1 of the main subjects of discussion.

"With the exception of some of the more liberal-minded governors who want the federal government to do more," Anderson said, "80 to 90% of the governors endorsed the principle and want the committee to continue."

State-Run
Gov. Anderson said the purpose is "not to discontinue the programs, but to have the states run their own programs with funds returned to them by the federal government which it collects to pay for the projects."

On the question of National Guard reduction, Anderson said Defense Secretary Neil McElroy explained that he will consult with the governors to get their ideas before any reduction of units is made.

McElroy explained, the governor noted, that the nation's defense must be streamlined to fit the needs. He realizes that the National Guard has done a "tremendous job and is useful not only in a shooting war but as home defense," Anderson reported, "and that it is a state's right arm in preserving law and order."

One Of Finest
Anderson said in his opinion that "from the standpoint of efficiency, the National Guard is one of our finest units of defense."

On anti-recession moves, Anderson said the governors agreed the individual states should plan ahead so that public works programs such as reclamation projects can be ready to put under contract on short notice to boost employment as soon as possible.

"There is no question but what some states are in real trouble with unemployment," the governor said, adding that "it brings out that while Nebraska doesn't have as much industry as we would like to have, at least we are not now faced with the tremendous problem of having 25,000 to 50,000 persons on unemployment compensation as some states have."

Gov. Anderson was 1 of 9 governors elected to the executive committee of the Governors Conference. The group named Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida as chairman for the coming year.

Mrs. Lillian Steele Estate Goes To Son, Daughter

The estate of Mrs. Lillian Steele Loveland of Lincoln, who died Apr. 22, will be divided between her son and daughter, according to terms of her will filed for probate in Lancaster County Court.

Dr. Grace Loveland, who had lived with her mother at 1130 So. 20th, and David Loveland of Needham, Mass., were named principal beneficiaries in the will. A granddaughter, Roberta L. Loveland, was also left a $1,000 bequest.

Mrs. Loveland, who was 84 at the time of her death, was a noted world traveler and author. June 23 was set as the date of the probate hearing of the will.

David Loveland was nominated to be executor of the will, but a petition filed by Dr. Loveland asks she and her brother be named co-executors and co-administrators because he is a non-resident of Lancaster County.

Wilt Turns Pro, 'Big 8 Game Wasn't Basketball'

By The Associated Press

Wilt Chamberlain, University of Kansas basketball star, said he was doing what he feels is "the best for me" in quitting school to begin a 160-game barnstorming tour.

Reached at his fraternity house by a reporter for the Lawrence Journal-World, Chamberlain said he is under contract with Look Magazine not to say anything about his proposed plan. He added that any specific comment on it will have to come from the Look office.

"I hate to do you this way," he said, "but that's the way it reads in the contract."

"Before, when I said those things about staying, I couldn't do anything else. The contract I signed forbade me from saying anything at all about leaving or about my future plans."

"However, I would like to make one thing clear: if I had to start over again from high school, I would want to attend the University of Kansas."

"I feel I have let some people down by doing what I am doing. But it just can't be helped. What it all boils down to is that I felt in the end that I just had to do what was best for me."

In a copyrighted, signed article in Look Magazine, Wilt said "The game I was forced to play at K. U. wasn't basketball. It was hurting my chances of ever developing into a successful professional player."

Then he explained that he was referring to the tactics used by Kansas' opponents. He said they put two, three and sometimes four men on him, and sometimes held the ball for long periods. He said he had to neglect many phases of play which "a man should master if he is to be a real pro."

The seven-foot All-America star from Philadelphia said he planned to organize two 10-man squads, one of Negro players and one of whites, for the tour.

"We'll play 160 games, beginning in South America very soon and continuing the next basketball season through the United States," he added. "This tour will give me the competition I need to get ready for the pro league."

Few other details were given of the proposed campaign. Chamberlain said the tour would be managed by Bill Leuschner and that Leuschner believed it could gross $250,000.

He said the squads would be made up of "real good players I know of, who never got a chance to play in college or who couldn't quite make the pro grade."

He added that he was looking forward to playing pro basketball in the National Basketball Assn. as a member of the Philadelphia Warriors, who hold draft rights to his services. But he cannot join the Warriors until 1959, after his class is graduated.

"I'm glad of that because I'm not ready for the pros yet by a long shot—or even a jump shot," Chamberlain said in the magazine, which goes on sale Tuesday.

"At K. U. I wasn't developing the all-around game I need to meet the kind of challenge Bill Russell had to face when he moved up from the University of San Francisco to the Boston Celtics."

At Lawrence, Dick Harp, Kansas coach, refused to comment on Chamberlain's criticism of Kansas basketball but he wished his protege success in his new venture.

"I am certain Wilt will go on to prove himself the finest player in the history of the game," Harp said.

Chamberlain said the barnstorming tour would give him a chance to make some money for his family. "There are nine of us, six boys and three girls," he said, "and we've always had to struggle to get along."

The stringbean Negro player, sought by more than 200 colleges before he enrolled at Kansas, said he wanted to deny reports that he received $25,000 to $30,000 for playing basketball at Kansas and that he once asked $5,200 besides tuition, room and board to attend Indiana.

He said at Kansas he received only board, room, tuition and $15 a month for laundry and incidentals.

He said he only considered four colleges — Dayton, Michigan, Indiana and K. U. "Some southern schools got in touch with me before they realized my color," he added.

Chamberlain was named on the Associated Press All-America team last season for the second time. He led the voting for positions.

K-State Stunned By Ziegenbein

Only games scheduled.

Manhattan, Kan. — Charlie Ziegenbein, hard - throwing Nebraska left-hander, limited Kansas State to just one single here Friday, and his mates pounded out 12 hits for a 9-1 Big Eight Conference win.

The only hit off the Husker hurler was by Wally Carlson, Wildcat first-baseman, in the first inning when K-State scored its only run.

Gene Torczon paced the Nebraska attack on two Wildcat pitchers with two home runs and a single, to score three times, and drive in four tallies. Larry Lewis also belted one out of the park for Nebraska.

It was Lewis' wallop, in the first inning, with two mates aboard that settled the issue, and gave Nebraska its 20th win in 19 loop games.

Gary Reimers led off the first with a single, Gil Dunne followed suit, and Lewis brought them both home with his poke over the right field fence.

After the first inning, when the lone single, two walks and a sacrifice fly brought K-State a run, Ziegenbein had things his own way.

A bit of control trouble—he walked nine—gave him a few bad moments, but he usually got out of the jam by striking out the futile Wildcat hitters. He fanned a total of 10.

Torczon got his first homer in the fourth inning with Jim Kane aboard, and closed out Nebraska's scoring with a solo blast in the sixth.

The two teams will meet here Saturday in a double-header, the final games of the season for both.

High School Hurler Given $100,000?

Denver, N.C. (AP) — Tony Cloninger, 17-year-old Rock Springs, N.C., high school pitching sensation, may have received about $100,000 to sign with the Milwaukee Braves.

Milwaukee scout Gil English refused to say how much Cloninger received, saying only he received a "sizeable bonus."

A representative of one major league system said, "I dropped out when the bidding passed $75,000. I know the final figure would not miss $100,000 more than $10,000 either way."

Cloninger, who conferred with representatives of 13 major league clubs, was signed to a Class AA contract with Austin, Tex., and immediately optioned to Eau Claire, Wis., of the Class C Northern League. He will report next week.

Cloninger, a 210-pound, 6-1 farm boy, had a 6-1 record this season and pitched two no-hit, no-run games.

Kearney 32%, Chadron 29%, Hastings 26, Midland 16, Wesleyan 14, Dana 10, Doane 9%, Wayne 8, Peru 6%, Concordia 2.

Lincoln Star Special

Fremont — Jim Jacobs of Kearney flipped the shot 48-3/4 to set a new Nebraska College Conference record as the 13th annual track and field championship got underway here Friday.

Jacobs' toss wiped out the old mark of 47-3/4 set by Gene Fleharty of Hastings in 1955. Bob Eberspacher of Nebraska Wesleyan, who finished second to Jacobs, and Dave Williams of Hastings also bettered the old record.

Keith Kyser of Chadron, the opening day's standout, tied the 100-yard dash record with a time of :09.9 in the preliminaries. He also led qualifying in the 220, finished fourth in the broad jump finals and ran the leadoff leg on Chadron's winning 880 relay team.

With five events completed, Kearney resumed its usual position at the head of the point column with Chadron close behind. The meet winds up here today. Friday's results:

Spahn's Bid For Perfect Game Nixed

Milwaukee (AP) — The San Francisco Giants Friday night smashed Warren Spahn's bid for a perfect game as they thundered from behind on home runs to defeat the Milwaukee Braves 5-3 and increase their National League lead to two and one-half games.

The victory went to Johnny Antonelli who stopped the Braves on three hits, but pitched in Spahn's shadow for six innings. The Giants gained the victory on solo homers by Bob Schmidt and Willie Kirkland and a two-run blast by Willie Mays that decided the game in the ninth.

Through six innings the 37-year-old Spahn was bidding for a perfect game. After retiring 19 Giants in a row, he saw three San Francisco batters take away from him in order, the perfect game, a no-hitter and a shutout. Danny O'Connell walked in the seventh to become the first Giant to reach base. The first hit was May's single and an infield out by Hank Sauer allowed O'Connell to score the first run.

The homers by Schmidt and Kirkland, their fifth and third respectively, tied the score in the eighth. Mays hit his 13th of the season after O'Connell had singled.

NE's 1-Hitter Nips Cathedral

Three Lincoln Northeast pitchers set Omaha Cathedral down on one hit and outfielder Jan Wall blasted a three-run homer to give the Rockets a 4-1 victory Friday.

The three Rocket hurlers, Jim Munford, Tom Phillips and Rich Luft, came within one out of scoring a no-hit shutout before Bill Smith singled to produce Cathedral's only run in the top of the seventh.

The single came off Luft, who took over the mound chores in the seventh after Munford and Phillips had stopped Cathedral cold for the first six frames.

Wall's homer, a 350-foot poke over the centerfield fence, climaxed a four-run fourth inning in which the Rockets scored all their runs and collected all their hits.

Northeast is now 7-3 for the season while Cathedral is 8-8. The two teams meet in the first round of the state baseball tourney at the University of Nebraska Tuesday.

Columbia, Mo. (AP) — The Missouri Tigers battered Oklahoma State 12-4 with a 14-hit attack Friday for a commanding lead in the Big Eight baseball race.

Missouri now is in front with a 12-3 record and can win the championship by splitting today's final doubleheader with Oklahoma state. On the other hand, Oklahoma State, at 13-5, now must win both games of the twin bill to take the title.

Missouri's Bo Toft hit two home runs and a single and drove in five runs.

ROUND TABLE SCARES FOES

Inglewood, Calif. (AP)—Round Table, making his first start of the meeting at Hollywood Park, scared away virtually all the opposition for the fifth running of the $100,000 added Californian today.

The handlers of only four stakes runners showed up this morning to enter their steeds against Travis M. Kerr's redoubtable Round Table.

The highly favored 4-year-old's opposition will come from Laurence Pollack and Roland Bond's Terrang, Neil S. McCarthy's Irish Importation, Seaneen; Joe W. Brown's Pit Boss, and the Searcher, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Martin's roan stretch-runner.

The field of five is the smallest in the history of this race. The mighty Swaps tamed five other horses in the 1955 Californian.

The race is at a mile and one-sixteenth and imports are based on age and monies won.

IBC Matchmaker Quits Because Of The 'Strain'

New York (AP) — Billy Brown, who has made several appearances lately before a grand jury investigating pro boxing, Friday announced his resignation as matchmaker of the International Boxing Club.

In a letter to the State Athletic Commission, he said he was returning his matchmaker's license because in the last few months "there has been a great deal of unnecessary strain both on my family and myself."

Later the 57-year-old former fighter, manager and promoter told newsmen "I couldn't stand the smears I got from downtown."

As matchmaker for the sprawling IBC, Brown has Paced by some fine pitching and an 11-hit attack, the Lincoln Chiefs made it 2-straight over Amarillo here Friday night, whipping the Gold Sox, 7-3, at Sherman Field.

But the victory was marred by a serious eye injury to Lincoln outfielder Jim Aldredge in the eighth inning.

Aldredge was injured on a force play at second base when Gold Sox shortstop, Clyde Perry, fired the ball into his left eye in an attempt to double off Tony Washington.

The Chiefs left fielder was rushed to St. Elizabeth's hospital and attendants there said he was suffering from a "severe contusion of the left eye."

He was admitted to the hospital and General Manager Dick Wagner said an eye specialist had been called to check on Aldredge's condition.

It was believed, however, that Aldredge's injury was not as serious as the one which cost Chiefs outfielder Bennie Crompton the sight of his right eye in 1957. Crompton was hit by a batted ball.

Wagner said Aldredge will be placed on the disabled list today, which means he will be out of action for at least 10 days.

Lincoln's win, coupled with Sioux City's loss, boosted the Chiefs Western League lead over the Soos to a game and a half. Amarillo dropped to fourth, percentage points behind Pueblo.

Chief Dave Wickersham, making his 1958 Sherman Field debut, came within 2 outs of a nifty 5-hit shutout before the Gold Sox hopped on him for 3 runs in the ninth inning.

It was Big Al Pinkston's 2-run homer that spoiled Wickersham's shutout bid. Easy Ed Bauta finally sewed up Dave's third straight win, getting Jim Streeter to hit into a force play with the bases loaded.

Lincoln led from the first inning when the Chiefs bombarded Gold Sox veteran Hugh Blanton for 5 runs and sent him to the showers before he could retire a man.

Singles by Julie Javier and Elmo Plaskett and a walk to Aldredge paved the way for Washington's 3-run double. Dave Brennan singled Wash-

Turley lost his shutout in the ninth inning, ending a string of 26 scoreless innings. This was his seventh straight complete game.

McDougald and Howard each slammed three-run homers, both coming off starter Billy Hoef.

McDougald hit a 3-0 pitch in the first inning behind singles by Hank Bauer and Mickey Mantle.

Bauer and Mantle walked before Howard connected in the third.

Cozad Recommended As Site Of State School For Mentally Retarded Children

By Betty Person
Cozad was named Friday as the unanimous choice of the advisory committee to the Board of Control as the site for a mentally retarded school authorized by the 1957 Legislature.

Sidney and Alliance were tied as second choice of the committee for the school's site.

The Board of Control expects to meet soon with committee representatives to discuss its recommendations and the Board will then make the final decision on the proposed school's location.

Dr. Vernon Hungate, director of special education for the State Department of Education and chairman of the advisory committee, said all 5 communities selected as possible sites for school were given "careful consideration."

The other 2 communities were Central City and Lexington.

Norfolk Discussed A 6th location discussed by Dr. Stanley R. Ross, associate professor of history at the University of Nebraska, has been awarded a $14,500 grant from the Rockefeller Foundation of New York City for competency in the field of Mexican history.

Dr. Ross will undertake a 15-month study in Mexico City in connection with the El Colegio de Mexico's program for the preparation of a bibliography of sources for the study of the Mexican Revolution.

Dr. Ross, who will be the first American to work actively with the Mexican historians at the college, will prepare a guide to historical materials on the Mexican Revolution.

A University faculty member since 1948, Dr. Ross is author of the first full-length biography in English of Francisco I. Madero, the inaugurator of the first phase of the Revolution. The volume was published by the Columbia University Press.

The native New Yorker plans to begin his work this coming June and expects to return to the University in September, 1959.

the committee was Norfolk. A Norfolk group had gone directly to the Board of Control to propose that their city be named the site.

Board Member Charles Lee-man inspected the Norfolk facilities this week, and gave the committee a report on his findings.

The committee discussed Norfolk, but did not consider it because it had adopted a policy that the school should not be established where mentally retarded facilities now exist. Norfolk has had an opportunity center for the mentally retarded for the past 5 years.

Dr. Hungate said the facilities offered at Cozad include a "fine" brick church building and a parsonage located next to it. Cozad interests have offered to rent the buildings to the state for $225 a month, and will put up $750 to help defray the cost of remodeling and renovation.

A Methodist church, the congregation is now building a new church and has offered to vacate the premises of the present building immediately so the Board may begin work for the school.

2 Units Offered
The committee said both Sidney and Alliance had wartime housing units which it offered for the school. Sidney offered 2 units of cement block construction for $175 a month rental, and Alliance offered similar units, though a little larger, for $200 a month rental.

Central City proposed the facilities of Nebraska Central College which it would lease to the state for $1 a year, or sell all buildings and 20 acres of ground for $25,000. It was the committee's belief that the buildings were of "such ancient vintage" that renovation and remodeling costs would make them prohibitive as the site selection.

Lexington offered 2 rest homes, both of which were described as "adequate" for the school's purposes. One of these was offered for $250 a month rental, and the other for $500 a month.

Alma, Neb.—The annual Alma High School alumni banquet will be held Friday, May 30, at the High School Auditorium. Special plans are being made for celebrations of 10, 20 and 25-year graduating classes.
